When disaster strikes, communities depend on retail centers to provide the essentials. Without steady access to those retail centers, the effects of a disaster can be magnified as those community members no longer have access to the resources they need. At the same time, any interruption to the flow of operation for a retail business has the potential to devastate the cash flow for such a business. Therefore, it is imperative to minimize business interruption as much as possible to any retail facility that has experienced a disaster.

COMPREHENSIVE SERVICES

From massive distribution centers that house thousands of products to neighborhood grocery stores, Cotton GDS is adept at securing the property and its contents. Professionals trained in content restoration will safely pack-out content, store, clean, and restock merchandise and equipment once the affected facility is ready to reopen. Each stakeholder will also receive thorough documentation of all the restoration services provided for a more efficient claims cycle.

Cotton GDS specializes in repairing commercial facilities with little to no business interruption. From large community malls to small businesses, Cotton GDS has the experience and tools needed to swiftly get retail businesses back up and running. Trained crews have extracted water from flooded malls, boarded up shattered glass in drug stores, repaired entire roofs in busy hardware stores, and more. Trust in Cotton to do whatever it takes to open your doors back up as urgently as possible.
