

Travis County Veterans Court

PARTICIPANT HANDBOOK

Welcome to the Travis County Veterans Treatment Court Program

Welcome to the Travis County Veterans Treatment Court Program. The Veterans Court is designed to help you address some of the risk factors that have led to your involvement in the criminal justice system. The Veterans Court is offering you this opportunity because we believe that each veteran in this court has demonstrated commitment, courage and self-discipline in their role as a member of the United States military. We expect that you will demonstrate these same characteristics in fulfilling the expectations of the Court.

We recognize that deployment to combat or other hazardous duty zones may have an impact that makes post-deployment life challenging. We also recognize that there is often a correlation between such deployment and psychological issues that may manifest themselves in behavior that is out of character for those who served. Our goal is to assist you in addressing these issues so you can interrupt or avoid this aberrant behavior. Furthermore, it is our responsibility to ensure that you no longer pose a risk to the community, as well as to yourself. The way to achieve this is by helping you recognize and correct the thinking, behavior and other risk factors that have brought you in contact with the criminal justice system.

You have taken part in the development of a strategic action plan (SAP) that is designed to help identify the steps you will be expected to take as you address your risk factors. This will include mental health counseling and, possibly, substance abuse counseling. Other goals we will help you with may include education, employment, housing, family counseling and social support.

We recognize that change can be difficult. No matter what behavior or habits we seek to change, change is seldom easy. There are various stages that we all go through as we attempt to develop healthier, more productive patterns for ourselves. We will do whatever we can to help you recognize the benefit of change and support you during this process.

One of the ways the Court will support you is by providing you with a series of rewards (incentives) to reinforce your progress. You can expect to be rewarded with verbal praise, advancement through the levels in court, reduction in the frequency of required court appearances, removal of certain restrictions and, ultimately, in dismissal of your case if you successfully complete the program.

The court may also require you to wear a SCRAM alcohol ankle monitor or have either an In-HOM or Ignition Interlock Device installed for a period of time, as well as undergo random urinalysis. The court staff will communicate closely with your treatment providers. Please be aware that information will be shared openly between these entities.

In some cases, the court may have to hold you accountable and provide you with sanctions for failing to follow the expectations that you have agreed to meet. Sanctions may include community service restitution hours, increased reporting to the court, denial of promotion to the next level, etc. More serious violations could result in jail time and/or being expelled from the court. It is important to remember that any sanctions that may be given are designed to help you correct behaviors that are considered high risk, to progress through the stages of change and successfully complete the Veterans Treatment Court Program.

This handbook includes an overview of the program, the Participant Agreement, an explanation of the three levels, and the progress reports you will need to complete for each of your court appearances.

The entire Veterans Court team appreciates your military service and looks forward to helping you successfully complete your Veterans Court mission.

TRAVIS COUNTY VETERANS COURT

OVERVIEW

The Travis County Veterans Treatment Court Program is a pre-trial diversion program for Veterans who are charged with a misdemeanor or felony misdemeanor or felony offenses that may be related to Post Traumatic Stress Disorder (PTSD) or other mental health problems resulting from their military service. Participants in this program will be given an evaluation for psychological, chemical dependency and other issues that can be addressed through various types of treatment and supportive services. The Veterans Treatment Court Program may also assist participating veterans with obtaining employment, education, health and housing services. Additionally, the program offers veterans an opportunity to avoid prosecution and a criminal conviction. The Veterans Treatment Court Program utilizes a non-adversarial approach in which a team that includes the judge, the defense attorney, the prosecutor, the program manager and a Veterans Administration outreach specialist work together with the veteran to guide him/her toward successfully attaining goals. A Strategic Action Plan (SAP) will be developed by the program manager and the veteran will be provided with referrals for services needed to begin implementation of the SAP. The veteran will be scheduled for a series of court appearances to monitor and reinforce their progress toward meeting the objectives of their SAP. Once the objectives have been successfully met, the case may be dismissed from prosecution.

ELIGIBILITY CRITERIA FOR PARTICIPATION

Veteran or current member of the United States Armed Forces, including a member of the Reserves, National Guard, State Guard or Coast Guard. Discharge from the military must be Honorable or General Under Honorable Conditions. Also, the veteran must have or receive a clinical diagnosis of Post Traumatic Stress Disorder (PTSD), a traumatic brain injury (TBI), or mental disorder that resulted from military service and materially affected the veteran's criminal conduct for which they are being charged. Misdemeanor or felony charges pending in Travis County are currently eligible.

PROCESS

Applications for admission must be submitted to the Veterans Court Manager by the defense attorney representing the veteran. Once a referral is received, the Veteran's Court Manager will screen the applicant for eligibility, schedule the veteran for assessment and staff the case with the County Attorney's Office. If the veteran meets the program criteria and is accepted into the program, their case will be transferred to the Veterans Court docket. If the attorney is Court-appointed, the case will be turned over to the Veterans Court contract defense attorney. If the attorney is retained, then the attorney will have the option of remaining on the case for the duration of the program.

PROGRAM LENGTH

The Veterans Treatment Court Program is a 12 to 24 month program. The exact length of time in the program is determined by each participant's needs, progress toward successful implementation of the SAP, nature of the offense and arrest history.

YOUR RIGHTS UNDER SECTION 504 AND THE AMERICANS WITH DISABILITIES ACT

The Office for Civil Rights (OCR) within the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services (DHHS) is responsible for enforcing the nondiscrimination requirements of Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, and Title II of the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) of 1990, involving health care and human service providers and institutions.

What Is Prohibited Under Section 504 and the ADA?

Both Section 504 and the ADA prohibit covered entities from discriminating against persons with disabilities in the provision of benefits or services or the conduct of programs or activities on the basis of their disability. Section 504 applies to programs or activities that receive Federal financial assistance. Title II of the ADA covers all of the services, programs, and activities conducted by public entities (state and local governments, departments, agencies, etc.), including licensing.

Who Is Protected Under Section 504 and the ADA?

Section 504 and the ADA protect qualified individuals with disabilities. An individual with a disability is a person who has a physical or mental impairment that substantially limits one or more major life activities; has a record of such an impairment; or is regarded as having such an impairment. Major life activities means functions such as caring for one's self, performing manual tasks, walking, seeing, hearing, speaking, breathing, learning and working. Under Section 504 and the ADA, a person is a qualified individual with a disability if he or she meets the essential requirements for receipt of services or benefits, or participation in the programs or activities of a covered entity. The question of whether a particular condition is a disability within the meaning of Section 504 and the ADA is determined on a case-by-case basis.

What Is a "Physical or Mental Impairment?"

Physical or mental impairments include, but are not limited to: visual, speech, and hearing impairments; mental retardation, emotional illness, and specific learning disabilities; cerebral palsy; epilepsy; muscular dystrophy; multiple sclerosis; orthopedic conditions; cancer; heart disease; diabetes; and contagious and noncontagious diseases such as tuberculosis and HIV disease (whether symptomatic or asymptomatic).

Specific Requirements

Covered entities must not:

- Establish eligibility criteria for receipt of services or participation in programs or activities that screen out or tend to screen out individuals with disabilities, unless such criteria are necessary to meet the objectives of the program.
- Provide separate or different benefits, services, or programs to individuals with disabilities, unless it is necessary to ensure that the benefits and services are equally effective.

Covered entities must:

- Provide services and programs in the most integrated setting appropriate to the needs of qualified individuals with disabilities.
- Make reasonable modifications in their policies, practices, and procedures to avoid discrimination on the basis of disability, unless it would result in a fundamental alteration in their program or activity.
- Ensure that buildings are accessible.
- Provide auxiliary aids to individuals with disabilities, at no additional cost, where necessary to ensure effective communication with individuals with hearing, vision, or speech impairments. (Auxiliary aids include such services or devices as: qualified interpreters, assistive listening headsets, television captioning and decoders, telecommunications devices for the deaf [TDDs], videotext displays, readers, taped texts, brailled materials, and large print materials.)

Who May File a Complaint with OCR?

Any individual who believes that he or she or a specific individual or class of individuals has been subjected to discrimination on the basis of disability, in a health or human service program or activity conducted by a covered entity, may file a complaint with OCR. Complaints must be filed within 180 days from the date of the alleged discrimination. OCR may extend the 180-day deadline if you can show "good cause." Include the following information in your written complaint, or request a Discrimination Complaint Form from an OCR Regional or Headquarters office (complaints must be signed by the complainant or an authorized representative):

- Your name, address, and telephone number.
- Name and address of the entity you believe discriminated against you.
- How, why, and when you believe you were discriminated against.
- Any other relevant information.

Send your complaint to the Regional Manager at the appropriate OCR Regional Office, or to the address located below. Upon receipt, OCR will review the information provided. If we determine we do not have the authority to investigate your complaint, we will, if possible, refer it to an appropriate agency. Complaints alleging employment discrimination on the basis of disability against a single individual may be referred to the U. S. Equal Employment Opportunity Commission for processing. Private individuals may also bring law suits against a public entity to enforce their rights under Section 504 and the ADA; and may receive injunctive relief, compensatory damages, and reasonable attorney's fees.
