Spotlight On TRC Residents – Riley McGregor

Hi! I'm Riley McGregor. I recently graduated from Stephens College Conservatory with my BFA in Musical Theatre. I grew up in the dance studio, where I developed a passion for dance – specifically classical ballet. I have lived in New Jersey, Connecticut, Arizona, Illinois, Missouri, and now I'm finally back east in NYC.

When I heard about the reboot of TRC, I knew immediately that I wanted to be a part of it. Graduating from an all-women's college has given me a deep respect for the legacy and history of TRC. The incredible women who have passed through the TRC ranks inspire me to keep working, learning, and pushing to pursue my artistic and theatrical passions and to one day provide mentorship and support to a new generation of young women with a passion for theatre.

Now, I am honored to live in the "Carol Burnett" room at the Webster Apartments, and one day I hope that a young woman will feel just as excited to live in the "Riley McGregor" room.

Cinderella Book Project Update

By Denise Pence

We are thrilled to announce that twenty-five of our Rehearsal Club Alums are on the road to publication for their memoir book, "Cinderellas of West 53rd Street."

A variety of writers were gathered a good 15 years ago by Denise Pence, an Officer and eventual Chair of TRC from 2007 to 2019, under her and her husband's company, Boockvor Productions – the only entity for The Rehearsal Club at that time. Over the years, writers came and went; many developing their own books; others sticking with this labor of love over the long haul. And the haul has been long.

Special thank you to Amanda Roberts, Chair of the first Writers Committee, consisting of Dottie Belle, Cynthia Darlow, Andrea Frierson, Judy Jenson, Francine Mancini, Gale Patron and yours truly. After quite a few metamorphoses, a recent reference by a longtime TRC "friend" from The Paley, Jane Klain, led us last year to Bear Manor Media. With much help from Volunteer Lawyers for the Arts, we are happy to announce we signed a contract in February 2022 for publication late this year or early next year, with almost half our "shared" royalties donated back to TRC.

Thank you to our new Writer's Committee consisting of Diane Findlay, Charla Hayen, Patricia Hill, Joanne Yeoman and yours truly, with Terry Baughan (also our illustrator throughout), Kathy Conry, Michele Mason and Melinda Tanner in "consultation" for helping all of us take this project to the finish line!

TRC Alum Maybin Hewes Sherman Was Featured in a Recent Article in The Hollywood Times, and We Couldn't Be More Proud

The Hollywood Times

February 26, 2022

By Ethlie Ann Vare

Singer-dancer Maybin Hewes Sherman first mounted her vaudeville-style show 20 years ago, when she was a mere child of 70. At 91, Maybin is tap-dancing her way back onto boards like the ones she trod at mob-controlled nightclubs back in the 1950s and 1960s in New York City. She was in Pal Joey and Brigadoon and danced on Ed Sullivan and Sid Caesar's shows. The petite firecracker with her auburn pixie cut is obviously a force of nature.

Shakespeare Alive!

Produced by Denise Pence

I continue to host readings of Shakespeare's plays as part of my own "exercise" throughout Covid (today is the anniversary of its start). Since August, 2020, we've now completed a total of 14 plays!!! It boggles my mind that these talented actors keep coming back for more!

We're continually adding trained thespians who are relishing the challenge -- each of us having grown by working the bard's text & polishing our Zoom techniques. So much more responsibility to produce is now part of an actor's skillset. We are ready for you world: Lights! Camera! Action! Brush Up Your Own Shakespeare -- and relish in some stellar performances by our actors

Our Shakespeare guru, Page Clements, is on hiatus until mid-April, because she's coaching dialect for a feature film! We are holding Cymbeline until she gets back. Casting now, if you're interested in joining our talented thespians.

Measure For Measure will follow close behind, before we break for the summer.
