

A woman with blonde hair and a backpack is seen from the side, talking to a group of people in a rural setting. The background shows trees and a clear sky. The text is overlaid on the image.

“We are not a water charity. We catalyze true and permanent community-wide development through strategic and tailored clean water infrastructure. Our goal is to change the world and the way this work is done. We won’t accept a ‘solution’ that is ‘OK for a little while’.”
