

RE-ROUTE THE ROUTE

Don't California My Texas!

The proposed Texas high-speed rail project closely mirrors California's disastrous rail project. We cannot let Texas make the same mistake

California:

- California's high-speed rail has suffered from at least seven identifiable "worst practices" causing it to be indefinitely delayed.
- A California Congresswoman calls it "an unacceptable and an embarrassing waste of taxpayer dollars."
- Costs have continued to skyrocket, people and businesses have lost their properties, and the sections of the high-speed rail that do exist go nowhere.

Texas:

- Just like California's lengthy high-speed rail mess, Texas high-speed rail is ALSO over a decade in the making and has made very little progress.
- Texas Central's cost projections have increased faster than California's, tripling in just five years to $30 billion! And as with the California high-speed rail project, Texas Central will rely on taxpayer dollars.
- The high-speed rail project FAILED in California and will FAIL in Texas.
