U.S. CATHOLICS BACK CAUSE OF FRANCO

Assail Loyalists as Enemies of Religion, Hail Rebels as Deliverers

New York, Oct. 14 (UP)—A group of 175 Catholic clergymen and laymen made public today a statement defending Catholic support of the Spanish insurgents and attacking those who support the Spanish loyalists.

The statement was a reply to a recent "open letter" of Protestant clergymen and laymen, which asked American Catholics to say whether they approved the bombing of cities of Spanish besieges supporting Gen. Francisco Franco's revolt.

The Catholic group, which included former Gov. Alfred E. Smith and Martin H. Glynn of New York, and dozens of bishops and Catholic clergy of the Protestants' letter "not only misrepresented the facts and the aims of Spain but it has also tended to create a species of religious war in the United States."

The statement commended the Spanish bishops as having acted on behalf of the preservation of religious and civil liberties and of all the fighting for democracy. They denied that the Spanish war is a religious war in support of fascism or Fascism, and charged that if Franco were defeated the Loyalists would end democracy in Spain and establish a dictatorship like that of Soviet Russia.

They challenged Secretary Perkins' statement that "there were in accord with a regime which has created as a ruthless persecution of the Christian religion since February, 1936," and insisted the Loyalist government was dominated by Communists, Anarchists and Syndicalists.

The statement, made public by Rev. John La Farge, associate editor of America, national Catholic weekly, charged that Protestant leaders had misrepresented and declared that Communists had massacred virtually all priests and set fire to churches in the areas they controlled in an attempt to destroy the Catholic religion. It charged that 16,000 Christians had been executed by Loyalists.

The statement asserted that a campaign of "misrepresentation, errors and deliberate lies" had been instituted against the Nationalists, and declared that "the Spanish Catholic people had loyal and self-sacrificingly acclaimed loyalty and allegiance to General Franco."

KIMBERLING SEEKS 200 MORE TROOPERS

Trenton Conference Hears Plea for Safety Force Before Inspection

Trenton, Oct. 14.—Declaring law enforcement "the main item in reducing traffic fatalities," Mark O. Kimberling, superintendent of the New Jersey State Police, proposed yesterday that 200 additional troopers be added to his department.

The present force numbers 328 officers and men. Of these there are 60 assigned to traffic duty.

Seconding Colonel Kimberling's proposal, made at a meeting of the State Association of Township Committeemen here, were David H. Ellis, president of the group, and Harry E. Taylor, secretary of the New Jersey farm bureau.

"We spend a great deal of money annually on our highway system," Kimberling declared, "but we do not embark on a $1,000,000 project for compulsory automobile inspection. While I'm not critical of these measures for safety, it is my own thought that we can reduce fatal accidents are due to carelessness by reckless drivers. Enforcement is the main item in reducing traffic fatalities and the only way we can enforce the law is to have additional troopers."

Speaking, assailing the legislative policy of diverting highway funds to unemployment relief, he said he was "terribly disappointed in the platforms of both major political parties in the recent campaign which gave no assurance that road funds are not again going to be diverted."

He urged the return of relief control from the state to the municipalities, a change in effect was passed by the township committeemen.

Highway Commissioner E. Donald Stevens told the association his department has spent $40,000,000 on road construction this year, and the Legislature in special session decides they want more for diversion."

GHOUL GIVES UP BODY HELD FOR $100 RANSOM

Riverside, Ont., Oct. 14 (UP)—Police today were seeking a grinner who "kidnaped" the body of Alexander Hayes Pope and demanded $100 ransom failed today with discovery of the corpse in a roadside ditch.

Police said the body, found by four children returning from school, apparently had been thrown from an automobile.

Officers and villagers, however, continued their search for clues which might indicate the identity of the ghoul who left a note which he gave Monday night at a farmer's house in the village coffin. The note, written in block letters by pencil, read:

"If you want your son back have $1000 ready and we will write where to have money when the cops cool off."

STUDENTS EARN $119,693 IN HONESTY PENNY JOBS

New York (UP).—Students at Hunter College did almost everything to earn an honest penny during the last school year, Miss Agnes Low, head of the bureau of occupations at the institution, announced.

The "honest penny" amounted to $119,693, not including last Summer's earnings. Students' tuition worked as tuition caregivers, typists, receptionists, librarians and salesgirls. Most of the jobs were permanent and 315 were temporary.

Miss Josephine Hammond, who has charge of placing graduates, said that there was an increasing demand for college graduates.

CEMETERY GATES SHOW 1937 QUITE LIKE 1871

Martins Ferry, O. (UP).—When city council voted to put gates on Riverview cemetery and to keep them closed at night, Councilman Fred Reid mumbled that times never change.

Reason for the council's action was that after-nightfall parties invaded the cemetery. Reid's remark was the informal forebear recalled that in 1871 another council had prohibited loitering in Walnut Grove cemetery—for the same reason.
