Happy Summer!

The longest day of the year and official declaration of Summer is on the 21st of this month, so we're celebrating this natural transition of our planet with our two week long Summer Solstice Clearance Sale June 7th through 21st. For this sale we clean house and price all kinds of treasures to move on to new homes. This is also the perfect time to find that something great for Father's Day and don't forget that we have gift cards!

Our Nature's Treasures family grew by one last month. All our blessings and congratulations to Amanda and Phillip on the arrival of their new baby boy Caelum Genesis (aka Little Dude) born on May 9th at 7:22 pm. Momma, baby and daddy are doing great.

This month we travel to Denver for our annual trip to the International New Age Trade Show (INATS). We'll be attending seminars, restocking our inventory plus talking with authors and presenters about new ideas and merchandise. This year Folade will also be attending to meet and interview prospects for future seminars and events at Nature's Treasures.

LOOK FOR US ON SOCIAL MEDIA!

What's New?

I'm getting really excited about our next Expo we are presenting in August - "Invite Nature Into Your Life". We're getting quite a selection of unique and creative local businesses that can help bring Nature deeper into your life. I encourage you to contact Folade soon if your interested in sponsoring a booth. There is a limited supply of space available, both inside and outside, and vendor selection is going fast.

Happy Father's Day to all the dads out there. Keep in mind, a trip to Nature's Treasures could save you from another tie or pair of socks.

Blessings to all,
Karen and the staff

Alexandrite

Alexandrite is a rare gem variety of the mineral Chrysoberyl. Known as "Emerald by day, Ruby by night" this gem has a unique optical property that causes it to change from a striking green in white light to a deep violet in warm light. Originally discovered in the Ural Mountains of Russia, this stone has become increasingly scarce even with new deposits being discovered in Brazil and Tanzania (although neither of these deposits are known to produce the high quality crystals found in Russia).

Alexandrite is said to help balance one's emotional state, to provide confidence, to increase self-esteem and to help bring about change. It is also said to bring happiness and success, and to intensify feelings of love and sensuality. It enhances the rebirth of both the inner and outer self, providing impetus to expedite the changing of one's world while producing the qualities of expansiveness, creativity, and awareness in the realm of manifestation.

Alexandrite is said to have regenerative powers, assisting one in returning to the origin of time to connect to the beginning of one's being. Doing so facilitates understanding of, and sensitivity to, that which still remains to be learned by one's soul, providing insight into the effortless way one is able to attain higher realization.

A Trove of Knowledge

by Folade Speaks

At my grandparent's home, there was a coal mine closet. From a tiny window, I was told as a toddler, a coal truck would come and dump the coal into the basement's closet window. As children, we were afraid of the closet because after Grandpa passed, no one ever opened the door. It was him who had the job of moving the coal from the closet to the furnace, and the mystery of the closet to children whose reference point for coal was being on Santa's skip stayed eternal. As I researched Father's Day, I learned its inception was birthed from a miner's daughter named Sonora Smart Dodd to honor miners and fathers who transitioned as a result of the largest coal mining accident in history. I find it interesting these bridges to sources of energy and heat are related to fathers and the masculine, as too, the Sun and Solar Plexus chakra. Then I think about Dads and fossils, and here we are again, the bridge to an energy source.

For Father's Day, there are always family members at the store searching for the perfect fossil for their dad. When I asked our Fossil Specialist, Diane Parma, which fossils resonate with fathering energies, she was led to mention three favorites. One with creative fossil attributes, the other with more practical properties and one in the middle: Orthoceras, Trilobite and Coral.. For example, if your father wants to counsel you, is he going to take you on a parachuting adventure while he jokingly offers some life metaphors, or is he more likely to advise you from across a long Executive oak table glaring over the rim of his glasses? ...or somewhere in between?

Austin Agates Exclusive

Agate Creek Agate North Queensland Australia

Notes on Agates:

Silica is the key component to agate formation since it belongs to the quartz family made up of SiO₂. Because of their beauty and durability, agates have been used since the Neolithic as tools, jewelry, tableware and decor for thousands of years. Although agate has been used for ages, new world agates have only been mined recently and many varieties are mined out.
