Happy Earth Month!

Finally our 15th Annual Spring Tucson Trunk Sale is here! The auditorium is filled with all the new inventory we've been collecting for the past 3 months. Be sure to catch our weekly product updates so you can stay tuned to all the new batch releases. Because the show is running all month you'll have the opportunity to revisit and get first-picks for hundreds of new pieces as the auditorium gets restocked. Because they postponed the Annual Tucson Gem, Mineral and Fossil shows to April, Michael and I will be driving to Tucson the last week of the show to finish shopping with our vendors, pick up any end of the show specials and supplement any areas that may not have been covered during these last few months of warehouse shopping. Be sure to continue shopping the whole month of April so you can catch those last minute additions when we return from Tucson. Remember you are now able to shop in our store plus online.

April starts off with a bang this year. Of course there's always April Fools Day on the first, which curiously no one can exactly determine or agree when, where or even why this holiday first occurred. On the second we recognize Good Friday in preparation of Easter, this year observed on Sunday the 4th. No mystery why we celebrate Easter but good luck trying to figure out what day it will be observed each year. It seems to involve the spring equinox, some date between March 31st and April 16th, full moons, Sunday's and a Golden Number, or just Google holidays for the year.

The rest of the month tends to celebrate the world we live in and the earth we inhabit. World Health Day, established in 1950, is recognized on April 7th and helps us focus at least one day a year on important aspects for better global health. Maybe on World Health Day a review of COVID's activation and management would be a good first step in focusing on important aspects for better global health. There seems to finally be a light at the end of the tunnel but we will continue to always feel the impact and changes, both good and not so good, this pandemic brought to us as individuals and humanity as a whole. My favorite day to celebrate this month is Earth Day, also known as International Mother Earth Day, on April 22nd. This is Mother Earth's birthday so as a birthday gift let's all make at least one important step to protect our environment - our Mother Earth, on her birthday. Get out and enjoy the blessings of all this planet has to offer us and remember how reliant we all are on her health.

Usually April is tagged with the burden of yearly tax issues, but not so this year. As a reminder on February 22, 2021 the IRS issued filing and payment relief for Texas residents impacted by the winter storm. Filing deadlines falling on or after February 11, 2021 and before June 15, 2021 were automatically postponed through June 15, 2021 for all Texas residents. The postponement is automatic and taxpayers do not need to file any additional forms. As a bonus taxpayers also have until June 15 to make 2020 IRA contributions and submit Texas Franchise taxes.

In continuing to increase development of our Online Store, we are adding more bulk rock purchase options and starting to highlight some of our extensive Agate selections for purchase. As described in "Melody's" books of crystal energies, Agate as being fundamentally in the quartz family, has such a variety of specific types that it lends itself to be an excellent stone to work with, offering a multitude of varied aspects for aiding in many different energy harmonies.

Please everyone, continue to stay safe and healthy.

Blessings,
Karen and the Staff

Bonnie C

Bonnie was born and raised here in Austin, and is currently studying behavioral neuroscience at St. Edward's university. You might see her working in the retail showroom or in the rock depot, happy to engage with customers and share perspectives. Her biggest passion is to learn new things, and Nature's Treasures provides the perfect community for that. She loves to spend her time reading some Stephen King or cuddling up with her fur baby, a one-eyed tabby cat named Juniper. She also loves to travel, & New Orleans, Louisiana is her happy place.

The predominant color, as guess, is rose to red with blues and white being very common. At one time it was known as Swazi or Swazi Rose agate but as the major mining is in Mozambique and the original find was Mozambique that name has been given to the stone. The agate has been imported to the United States by two importers and supplied in Africa by Joshua Lecram Ritter of Germany.

Featured Agate - Mozambique Agate

Mozambique agate is found in Mozambique and a couple of neighboring countries. The state borders Malawi, South Africa, Swaziland, Zambia, and Zimbabwe on the western and southern side

and Tanzania to the north. The agate can be found On the eastern border at several locations and is also found in Zambia, Malawi and Swaziland. This agate is known for its lovely rose color and nice lacy banding.

Featured Fossil - Petoskey Stone

Petoskey Stone, a Native American word, meaning “the Rays of the Living Sun” is a type of fossilized colonial coral. The Petoskey Stone dates back to over 350 million years ago. It is formed from a process known as glaciation, where sheets of ice remove stones from the bedrock. These fossilized corals can be found in the northwestern area of Michigan’s lower peninsula. It is said to stimulate the third eye chakra and aide in the awareness of one’s emotions and looking inward. Once polished, the six-sided coral fossil pattern is unveiled. It is a unique fossil specimen to use in home décor as well as to carry with you.

Meditation Corner featuring Laura Tree

Customizing Your Cleansing

As many of you know, in wake of the violence and destruction that took place last month, the Nature's Treasures staff banded together to cleanse the store using every method we could think of, whether Sound Healing, Griddings, Smudging, Crystal Programming, Reiki, etc.

However, to get the job done as thoroughly as possible, we brought in on of our most adept practitioners, Laura Tree, to clear the space of negativity, ill-will, and shadow energy. Although she cannot reveal all of her secrets, here is a brief summary of what she did...

When I perform a clearing ritual I feel it is extremely important to first center yourself in a deep feeling space of Love. Fear, hate for what is/was creating the disturbance depletes our power. Love. Source is always the highest vibration of protection and Light that we can Be in when beginning this type of work, as we are usually working with lower frequencies that are uncomfortable when exposed to higher vibrational energies.

We, now, having called to the Beings we have asked to assist; Source, Christ, Angels, specific deities, guides, prayers, invocations, the Violet Flame, etc. are now surrounded with Divine Love! For me, Reiki, being my foundational practice for any healing work I do, is called in, as well as the previous personal 'friends' mentioned above. As I call in the Reiki Masters I draw the symbols throughout the areas I'm cleansing. If you know Reiki you can do this too! Now we're ready. Let's do it!

Light your sage, I prefer white sage for cleansing. Have an abalone shell or special bowl to catch any burning ash. Start at the entrance, if it's a property, go to the front gate or drive. Move counter clockwise with your burning sage, making sure to wave the smoke over any reflective surfaces. Open cupboards, cabinets, closets and move the smoke into those areas; even little hidden spaces like corners, under furniture and so forth. Take your time. As I'm moving throughout the space I chant Sanskrit mantras. You can say prayers, send Love, whatever feels right. Bless and thank the space itself, thank Grandmother Sage and others we've called in to be with us. Remember Source, Universe, God/Goddess, whatever names we use for that which IS, is the One doing the work. We are just the vehicle or conduit for this Divine Love that brings in the Highest frequencies of Light.

After I've completed my first round of cleaning with Grandmother Sage, I take my sacred bell which also clears and breaks up old Karma. I ring it following the same directional progression I used with sage. I chant a sacred Sanskrit mantra that enhances this clearing process and moves the energy to be transmuted and pronounced clean.

Once again, upon completion, we bless the space sending our feelings of Divine Love into it and giving Thanks to the space, our Divine assistants and to Source. It is Done. All is Well. All is Blessed and So IT IS!

May Divine Blessings come to You in the Highest Good for All,

Laura Tree
