Happy New Year!

Aloha everyone.. I was blessed this year to be able to see some of Mother Nature's best work while touring the Hawaiian Islands during the holiday season. A great way to step back and review priorities and accomplishments.

While leaving the Los Angeles harbor, we cruised past container ships entering the harbor with what I'm sure is some of the minerals headed to the International Gem, Mineral & Fossil Show in Tucson this month. Yes, this month already!! We will actually be leaving in three weeks to go shopping for this years new inventory in Tucson so be sure to get your special request in soon.

This Sunday I will be speaking at the Austin Metaphysical & Holistic Life Expo at 2:00pm, hope to see you there. This is the first metaphysical fair of the year so they will be featuring their Annual Predictions Panel Friday evening at 7:00pm. This is a free event and if you've never attended one I recommend you check it out. This panel of local Practitioners meets the first of every year to offer their predictions and incites for the new year.

I want to thank everyone for all their special holiday wishes and for making December 2018 our best month ever. We appreciate all your patience with us during our busy time. We tried to get you on your merry way as quickly as possible while still offering our special personal service. However, during some of the very busy shopping days we may have not been able to give the amount of personal time we normally do, and for this we sincerely apologize. We want you to know things are back to normal so drop in and visit. Don't forget our annual clearance sale to make room for new inventory ends January 6th. Last chance to grab those 75% off discounted special pieces, there's just a few left.

I'd like to remind everyone that whether you make New Year's resolutions or not, for your own personal growth, please take the time to review your accomplishments and lessons learned last year and

January's Birthstone

Garnet

Garnet is found the world over, and though commonly known to be red, it is in fact found in a variety of colors and chemical formulas, each with its own set of spiritual properties.

Legends and folklore place garnet among the most ancient of talismans. Not only was it prized as an ornamental jewel, but its strong curative powers and protective energies made it invaluable.

Garnet is also known for its utilization of creative energy. It grounds spirit forces within the body and helps in the ability to work lovingly on the physical plane.

Yet Garnet is a sensual stone. It represents primordial fire, the creation of the world out of chaos, purification and love. It is a stone of strong, intense feelings.

In Europe during the Middle Ages, Garnet was used to enhance truth, faith and constancy, and to dispel melancholy.

Can't get into the store? Want to take a virtual tour? Google came out and did a VR of Nature's Treasures. Check it out here!

Meghan moved to Austin about 5 years ago. After leaving the tattoo industry and the world of power sports, she found herself at Nature's Treasures. She enjoys sharing all the information she has learned about the geological and metaphysical qualities of all the minerals and continues to learn more herself each day! Meghan loves spending her free time riding motorcycles, rock hounding, hiking, swimming, traveling, basking in the sunshine and jammin' out to 60s/70s rock-n-roll. Agates never cease to amaze her but her favorite healing mineral is Rose Quartz.

Treasure Tome: A Trove of Knowledge

Citrine Manifested

By Michael J. Kallstrom, MS Geoscience

Citrine, the golden variety of quartz, has long been sought after by collectors for its vibrant color and by healers for its ability to dispel gloom and manifest wealth. However, much of the citrine found on the market today began as a very different member of the quartz family, purple amethyst!

Through a process of heating, the purple variety of quartz sheds its royal color to dawn itself in golden hues. We recognize that there are many schools of thought in the scientific and the metaphysical communities, some of which believe that anthropogenic colors in minerals negatively impact their value. For example, the most common dislike of human-altered coloration of stones is in the dyed agates. However, many argue that despite the colors being completely unnatural, they provide a benefit owing to their aesthetic and the psychological practice of Color Therapy. Similarly, many individuals dislike citrine that has been heat-treated because the color simply is not natural. This is most frequently true in the metaphysical community, where the "baking of amethyst" to create citrine is sometimes viewed as misleading.

Notes on Agates:

Silica is the key component to agate formation since it belongs to the quartz family made up of SiO<sub>2</sub>. Because of their beauty and durability, agates have been used since the Neolithic as tools, jewelry, tableware and decor for thousands of years. Although agate has been used for ages, new world agates have only been mined recently and many varieties are mined out.
