SMS ASSIST NAMED AS ONE OF CHICAGO TECHWEEK'S 100

Company recognized as a leader in the Chicago technology community

CHICAGO, June 21, 2017 – Techweek announced that SMS Assist, an innovative mobile and cloud-based multisite property management company, was named among the established leaders in Chicago's tech community.

"It's an honor to be named to the Techweek 100. Our world-class teams and disruptive technology are creating value for our clients and fundamentally transforming the property management industry," said Taylor Rhodes, CEO of SMS Assist. "We also offer our congratulations to the other winners. We are in great company here in Chicago's thriving tech community."

Techweek is a purpose-built conference and media company in eight cities, with week-long conferences throughout the year. Techweek partners with tech leaders, corporations, and the community to build a unique experience for investors, entrepreneurs, and Hero Companies.

Techweek's established leader companies are high-growth businesses that achieve a substantial and sustainable impact and incubate talent and ideas. Anchors in the entrepreneurial community can help catalyze and spur dynamic hubs of growth, innovation and wealth generation.

Michael Rothman, founder and chairman of SMS Assist, will participate in a Techweek panel discussion on Growth Financing Operators on June 22.

SMS Assist's proprietary, cloud-based platform and fully-managed business solution connects a network of more than 20,000 subcontracted affiliates and an estimated 500,000 technicians to provide the highest quality maintenance services to more than 140,000 client locations across the U.S.
