

Will a majority of people in your state be fully vaccinated within the next year?

Projections are based on each state's current rate of vaccination.

United States

Note: The average rate of fully vaccinated people is based on the last seven days of preliminary data from the CDC. A state without a trend line has had a downward data revision within the last 7 days, making projections unreliable.

Source: Centers for Disease Control and Prevention