Dear Prospective Patient (male),

Thank you for your interest in learning more about Bio-identical Hormone Therapy using hormone pellets. Since 2009, Dr. Jennifer Park has successfully treated over a thousand male and female patients using this approach. Her extremely satisfied patients are referring their friends and family due to their amazing results with this program.

To determine if Bio-identical Testosterone Hormonal Therapy using pellets is the right approach for you, we ask you to do the following:

1. Think about the symptoms that are motivating you to seek this type of treatment.
2. Read our article "Testosterone for Men." This will help educate you on the symptoms of low testosterone and the safety and advantages of treatment with pellets.
3. Read the "Testosterone Therapy FAQ's" article for common questions and answers.
4. Decide if you'd like to have a consultation with Dr. Park. Once you call to make this appointment, we'll send you a packet of information including:
  - a brief New Patient History Form for you to fill out and return
  - a discussion of our fees which are very reasonable compared to the Beverly Hills and other similar hormone clinics
  - a "medical clearance" form for possible testosterone therapy that must be signed by a licensed medical provider (MD, DO, Nurse Practitioner)

Your initial hormone consultation with Dr. Jennifer Park, who is a Board-Certified Ob/Gyn in private practice. This visit and any necessary testing are covered by most medical insurance plans. Upon request, we'll provide you with a form to file a claim with your health insurance provider.

After this visit, Dr. Park will determine if you're a candidate for Testosterone treatment using bio-identical hormone pellets. For example, due to pre-existing medical conditions you might not be a candidate. If you're eligible for Testosterone Pellet Therapy, we'll provide you with a lab slip to have pre-pellet labs drawn and we'll schedule you to return for the pellet insertion procedure. Sometimes the insertion procedure can be done right after the consultation.

Bio-identical testosterone hormone pellets are not covered by most medical insurance plans. Once you present for your first insertion, you become a patient of Pasadena Pellet Therapy, a specialty practice dedicated solely to this form of treatment.

Thank you and we look forward to seeing you soon.

Sincerely,
