FLORIDA'S PARTNER IN RECOVERY

After a disaster like Hurricane Michael, getting your business operational again is a challenge. Cotton's more than two decades of disaster recovery and restoration experience will help get your business back to its core mission as quickly as possible. Depend on Cotton's Panama City Beach response center to serve your business in the wake of a disaster, and assist with day-to-day needs, improvements to your property and Master Service Agreement clients.

EXPERTS IN INNOVATION

Using state-of-the-art equipment, innovative thinking and the know-how acquired from years of training and experience, Cotton's experienced staff will work with you to expertly assess the damage and determine a critical path for your recovery.

A COMMITMENT TO SAFETY

Cotton is committed to safety for all personnel that may be in or around a job site. Cotton's duty is not solely limited to Site Specific Safety Plans, Job Hazard Analysis, and OSHA 10/30 requirements. Our commitment extends to daily safety meetings and training requirements for all personnel. Cotton's goal is to make sure all projects are performed effectively, efficiently and safely for the benefit of Cotton and our clients.

SUPERIOR CUSTOMER SERVICE

Cotton's reputation is built on both our efficiency and effectiveness. We are proud of our reputation that has been earned by tirelessly serving clients throughout the United States and overseas. ## YOU'RE TRUSTED COTTON TEAM

PAT BARKER

Pat Barker, Regional Director, has nearly two decades of experience in the disaster recovery industry. After years of working around the world as a military contractor, Barker has returned to his hometown of Panama City, Florida, to help the city rebuild. Barker aims to identify opportunities to help clients mitigate problems with business interruption while minimizing possible emergencies. Barker received his Bachelor of Science degree from the University of Southern Mississippi in 2002.

CHRIS DANIELS

Chris Daniels joined Cotton in 2018 as National Restoration Project Coordinator to focus on the recovery of the Florida Panhandle, which is where he was raised and still lives. His disaster response experience includes multiple hurricanes, military projects, and the BP oil spill. Daniels received his Associates degree in Business Administration from Gulf Coast Community College in 2001.

STEVE TIANO

Steve Tiano, Project Coordinator – Construction, brings over three decades of experience in construction management. Following personal loss from Hurricane Michael, Tiano joined Cotton in 2018 with the goal of helping Panama City recover and rebuild. His involvement in disaster response includes acting as an insurance liaison for multiple hurricanes, construction consultation following various weather and man-made catastrophes, and managing reconstruction services in North Florida.
