Situation Overview

Introduction:
On Saturday April 25th, a magnitude 7.9 earthquake struck the Lamjung District of Nepal, and over 21 aftershocks have also struck the region including a 5.2 in the mountains causing a landslide. It was the biggest earthquake to strike the country in 80 years. The earthquake was felt across the region from India to China and left immense destruction, flattening sections of Kathmandu and triggering avalanches in mount Everest.

Initial government reports confirm that 30 out of 75 districts in the country have been affected in the Western and Central Regions, including Kathmandu Valley districts. This includes mountain and hilly areas, in areas where rural populations are dispersed, as well as some very densely populated districts and Nepal’s two largest cities – greater Kathmandu and Pokhara. The worst affected districts include Sindupalchowk, Kavre, Nuwakot, Rasuwa, Dolakha in the CR and Kaski, Gorkha, Lamjung in the western region. (source) As of April 27, the Ministry of Affairs estimates over 4,200 people have died and over 7,500 have been injured. (source)

Humanity Road’s Sitrep will contribute to information gathering, analysis and expansion through social media mining of urgent Needs, Significant Updates, Social Media Highlights, and Highlights for Underserved Locations. The full report can be accessed at http://humanityroad.org/apr25nepalquake/.

Background:
Kathmandu is the capital and largest metropolitan city of Nepal. The city is the urban core of the Kathmandu Valley in the Himalayas, which also contains two sister cities namely Patan or Lalitpur, 5 kilometres (3.1 mi) to its southeast and Bhaktapur, 14 kilometres (8.7 mi) to its east. It is also acronymed as 'KTM'. The city stands at an elevation of approximately 1,400 metres (4,600 ft) in the bowl-shaped valley in central Nepal surrounded by four major mountains, namely: Shivapuri, Phulchowki, Nagarjun and Chandragiri.

Updates 27 April:

AID COORDINATION:
- UNOCHA - "It has been indicated by the national authorities, both at the NOEC and MNMCC that current USAR capacity on the ground and teams currently airborne is sufficient to cover identified needs. All other USAR Teams should stand by (and not deploy) unless they can support with other relief activities." (source)

MEDICAL SITUATION OVERVIEW -

- Management of casualties and injuries remains the most pressing need in Kathmandu. Hospitals are overwhelmed with casualties, and injuries from collapsed buildings. Doctors are reported to be treating people in the streets.
- Urgent needs include the provision of essential medicines and medical supplies, surgical equipment and instruments, mental health care, psycho social support and management of trauma caused by the tragedy. (Source)
- Timalsina, the top official for the Gorkha district (epicenter) said he was in desperate need of help. 223 people had been confirmed dead in the district; thousands are injured. Many villages remained isolated. In those villages that have been reached, the immediate needs are great including the need for search and rescue, food items, blankets and tarps, and medical treatment. (Source)

- The morgues and cremation sites are getting full. Families lit funeral pyres in towns and across the countryside. The Pashupati area has 12 permanent ghats (podium for cremation). Another 16 temporary ghats were created at the bank near the Tilganga bridge at the side of Pashupatinath Temple. In response to shortage of timber, the Timber Corporation of Nepal is preparing to stock wood that is enough for cremating 2000 bodies. (Source)

- WHO is surging additional medical supplies and health workers into the affected region. at least 20 foreign medical teams (FMT) have offered support to the country and registered with WHO. The first teams are expected to arrive in Kathmandu tonight. (Source)

- India, China, Pakistan, US, UK, Australia and New Zealand are sending rescue teams, medics and relief/medical supplies. (Source)

- Handicap International reports a serious shortage of vehicles to transport the injured to local hospitals, expect to see significant numbers of spinal cord injuries and multiple fractures. (source)

REUNIFICATION

- Reuniting with loved ones after disaster can be challenging. Have a plan, be sure to advise loved ones you are ok. Are you a foreign citizen in Nepal? Register with your embassy. Are you looking for a loved one from a foreign country who is missing in Nepal? Contact the embassy for your country to request assistance. Ministry of External Affairs in India also has a 24 hour control room with a help line
