Description of Activities:
May 1 - So far, 16 Member States have provided support to Nepal with EU coordination, via the EU Civil Protection Mechanism (EU CPM). Assistance includes search and rescue teams, technical equipment such as water purification systems and ICT support as well as other technical assistance. An EU Civil Protection team, including experts in structural engineering, is operating on the ground. The Commission is co-financing transport costs of EU aid to Nepal. The European Commission’s Emergency Response Coordination Centre (ERCC) monitors developments and coordinates support 24/7. The Copernicus Emergency Management Service has been activated for the provision of satellite images/maps of the disaster area to support the ongoing operations. The EU assistance will address the most urgent needs and focus in particular on the most vulnerable groups. The aid will be channelled via ECHO’s humanitarian partner organisations operating on the ground. It is expected that early recovery activities and longer term rehabilitation will also be needed. Logistics are a major challenge for relief operations in the mountainous region. Airport capacity is limited.
Apr 29 - EU Commissioner for Humanitarian Aid and Crisis Management, Christos Stylianides, together with the UN Under-Secretary-General, Valerie Amos, responsible for the international coordination of the humanitarian response travelled to Nepal and visited the affected areas. Within the first 24 hours after the earthquake - Initial response - the European Commission activated the EU Civil Protection Mechanism (EU CPM) upon request from the Nepali authorities, dispatched humanitarian experts to Nepal - first response teams and assets from the Member States - and released € 3 million to help address the most urgent needs: clean water, food, medicine, emergency shelter and telecommunication.

Description of Activities:
LWR is coordinating with the UNHRD warehouse in Dubai to ship over 9,240 Quilts, 1,000 Personal Care Kits and 100 water filtration units for distribution in Kathmandu. It has committed an initial $500,000 to the response and is actively raising funds for additional programming. The planned response will work with LWR’s long term partner COPPDES and focus on NFI distributions and cash transfers in Lamjung District, and assessing the needs in Gorkha to see about a similar response there. (Source: http://programs.lwr.org/atf/cf/%7B8ed291f8-702d-4e2c-9821-68d75e0105d2%7D/2015-NEPALEARTHQUAKE-SITREP5.PDF)
LWR began working in Nepal in 2009 to improve food security in for indigenous, Dalit and marginalized communities. Despite recent declines in poverty, Nepal remains one of the poorest countries in the world. Rural communities often struggle with household food security and are extremely vulnerable to frequent natural hazards, including flash floods, landslides and earthquakes. Poverty affords communities few resources to prepare for or mitigate the effects of these hazards and even fewer resources to recover, which can destroy development gains. LWR promotes resilience and long-term development in the communities in which it works by better preparing communities for natural hazards and helping families realize food security and savings. In Nepal, LWR currently works with local partners on agriculture, food security, climate change adaptation and disaster risk reduction (DRR) projects. LWR’s work focuses on areas of western Nepal.

The objective is to give affected public a platform to report and relief communities to identify hotspots of greatest need. This is a work-in-progress, so the platform has a limited usability for now, as public can report only through internet form or Android or iOS app. We will add new communication channels to report (SMS, and hotline) in the days to come. We are just getting on our feet and putting together this platform. Please bear with us as we improve and add new channels to send reports. For now, affected citizens and relief communities on the ground, please click on SUBMIT REPORT to send your updates/needs.

Project C.U.R.E. is mobilizing our network of donors, volunteers and transportation organizations to send life-saving medical supplies to Nepal after the devastating 7.9 magnitude earthquake that occurred on April 25, 2015. Project C.U.R.E. has strategically selected in-country partners who are on the front lines in the affected areas. Our partners relay up-to-date needs for addressing the immediate medical issues. Considering the medical treatment already administered in Nepal, medical staff are experiencing a lack of basic and specialized equipment to treat patients, and have moved many patients to the streets, as it is too dangerous to treat them indoors. In the coming days and weeks, 20-foot and 40-foot containers of medical supplies will be sent to those in need in Nepal.

Sectors: Health

Description of Activities:
We are in coordination with Deerwalk, Inc & Institute of Technology, which is a software development firm and a technology school that works both in the US and in Nepal. Deerwalk is located in Kathmandu, and they've kindly offered use of their facilities as a base. Meanwhile, our coordination with the World Health Organization indicates that areas more remote than Kathmandu require aid, so we will transport volunteers daily from Deerwalk facilities to red zones in order to maximize our resources.

The WHO is still assessing the situation and will get back to us soon on which remote areas are in the most dire need. The WHO is working in tandem with the Nepal Ministry of Health, so in this situation WHO = Nepal Government. We will do our very best to go where they ask us to.

RAM volunteers will be on the ground in Nepal within 48 hours.

The schedule of the helicopter time window was far to small too. Shutting up the entire load will take more time tomorrow and under these circumstances maybe even more days. The weather was not much in our favor today. Thunderstorms over Kaski Lamjung & Gorkha districts delayed all other relief rescue helicopter flights plus domestic air cargo traffic between Kathmandu and Pokhara. Stay tuned for more to come tomorrow!"

Organization Name: Swiss Humanitarian Aid Unit
Organization Type: NGO - International
Country of Origin: Switzerland
Sectors: Protection, Health
Description of Activities:
On the evening of 28 April 2015, a 10-strong medical team will fly to Nepal as part of the “Mother and Child” unit to provide medical support in the disaster area for women in childbirth and to perform surgery on children there. The deployment of the team of doctors by the Swiss Humanitarian Aid Unit is the first response measure to be taken following an initial assessment of the situation by the rapid response team sent to the region on 26 April 2015 in the wake of the devastating earthquake in the Himalayas.

The “Mother and Child” unit is a rapid response medical team deployed by the Swiss Humanitarian Aid Unit. On Tuesday evening, eight medical personnel and two logistics experts will depart from Belp airport for Nepal. The team will travel on the Federal Council’s official jet in cooperation with the Swiss Air Force operated by the Federal Department of Defence, Civil Protection and Sport (DDPS).

The “Mother and Child” rapid response team was set up based on experience acquired following the earthquake in Haiti. Medical personnel can be sent to reinforce existing health teams only a few days after a disaster hits. Central to their work are surgical operations on children and childbirth support. The team will take with it the medical equipment needed for its work. The flight on 28 April 2015 will carry 562 kg of equipment. Together with personal equipment, the plane will thus have a total cargo of 1 tonne.

The Swiss Humanitarian Aid Unit decided to deploy this 10-strong team following an evaluation by the advance detachment sent on Sunday, 26 April. The six-member group of experts assessed the situation and the requirements in the disaster area upon their arrival in the Nepalese capital, took charge of coordination with the authorities and the local partners on the ground, supplied first aid and supported the Swiss embassy and the cooperation office of the Swiss Agency for Development and Cooperation in Kathmandu. The plan is for this team to be joined by eight specialists from the Swiss Disaster Relief Unit. A larger consignment of aid is scheduled to be delivered on Thursday, 30 April 2015.

Description of Activities:
Vodafone Foundation's Instant Network team is now in Kathmandu to help the humanitarian relief mission. The Instant Network Mini is an 11kg mobile network in a backpack, which can be set up in just 10 minutes, and is being deployed for the very first time to help with the recovery efforts. The Instant Network team is there to offer support to local operators to establish mobile communications. This will help aid workers communicate during the relief effort, and enable people to contact their loved ones following the earthquake. A team of employee volunteers is on standby to deploy additional Instant Network equipment, if necessary. Working alongside NGO Télécoms Sans Frontières, they’re currently awaiting instructions from the local operators and NGOs working in Nepal as to when and where the equipment should be deployed. The Vodafone Foundation has also announced that it has made a donation of £100,000 to the UK Disasters Emergency Committee (DEC) to support the relief effort in Nepal.

response to meet basic, urgent needs with temporary shelter, food, water, emergency health interventions, and other vital aid

As of May 1, the Phase 1 response will target 100,000 people in the worst-affected areas of Bhaktapur, Gorkha, Kathmandu, Lalitpur, and Lamjung. Distributed supplies that were pre-positioned in Nepal, including 1,000 tarpas and 600 blankets in Bhaktapur. Plan to set up 15 Child-Friendly Spaces and temporary learning centers so children have a safe space to play and study following the trauma of the quake while their families are in transition. The next round of distributions will depend on the arrival of relief supplies being airlifted in from Dubai. The shipments include 5,000 tarpaulins that are loaded and waiting to fly. But planes are having difficulty landing. Additional supplies are being airlifted from a regional warehouse and include hygiene kits, cooking kits, mosquito nets, sleeping bags, sleeping mats, buckets, and water purification tablets.
