We started relief work on the 12th April distributing Survival kits to thousands of migrant labourers, daily wage workers, men and women with no ration cards, no Aadhar cards, no papers of any kind that made them eligible to get govt. assistance. With the help of officials we covered 327 Silicosis patients abandoned and unnoticed without papers. In cooperation with the village government officials, we identified them and gave them food and provisions to last 15 days and replenished afterwards. We have distributed our Survival kits to 232 migrant labour families, 41 of which have left for their hometown. In this newsletter we honour those frontline warriors.

BAREFOOT COLLEGE INTERNATIONAL

Beyond our relief work in Rajasthan, we reached out and supported our local community organisations across India to reach the last mile to deliver food and other relief material to the most neediest. We're providing funds to 23 selected applicants across 13 Indian states, who submitted unique strategies to stabilise communities on-the-ground, for a grand total of over INR 11,51, 000. Examples of the innovative initiatives that were established, offer a broad spectrum of localised solutions like Manav Sewa Sansthan of Uttar Pradesh is distributing soaps, sanitary napkins and are providing minimal capital to small vendors to ensure their survival, while Sampark of Madhya Pradesh is providing farmers with seeds for the Kharif crop. The Sarathi Trust of Maharashtra is providing supplies such as masks and sanitizers for the LGBTQ community and to HIV positive patients.
