Seasonal Health Advice: Vaccines

Reason:

Vaccinations prevent the spread of seasonal diseases like flu and COVID-19. Flu shots in fall and winter reduce risk, while updated COVID-19 vaccines protect against emerging variants and potential surges.

- Get vaccinated: flu shot annually in fall, COVID-19 boosters as recommended, pneumococcal vaccine for older adults.
- Track vaccination schedules for family members.
- Maintain good hygiene, like regular hand washing.
- Support immunity with a balanced diet, exercise, and sleep.
- Stay informed on vaccine updates and public health advisories.
