

50 Tax Deductions For Freelancers

Home & Office Expenses

- Portion of Mortgage Interest*
- Portion of Homeowners Insurance*
- Repairs & Maintenance
- Portion of Water Bill*
- Portion of Electricity Bill*
- Portion of Internet Bill*
- Portion of Trash*
- Portion of HOA Bills*
- Portion of Rent*
- Laptop
- Ergonomic Chair
- Keyboard
- Monitors
- Desk
- Office Supplies

General Administrative

- Business Cards
- Facebook & Google Ads
- Banking & Credit Card Fees
- Solo 401K Contributions
- Bookkeeping & Accounting Fees
- Software
- Portion of Mileage
- Portion of Cell Phone Bill
- Health Insurance
- Business Insurance
- Membership Fees†
- Travel
- Legal Fees
- Taxes, Licenses, and Permits
- Continuing Education††
- Equipment Rental
- Credit Card Processing Fees

Content Creator

- Content Publishing Platform Subscriptions
- Graphic Designer
- Selfie Light
- Tripod
- Camera
- Adobe Pro
- Professional Headshots
- Personalized Merch
- Agent Fees
- Website Hosting Fees

Coach or Consultant

- Development Classes
- Workshops & Events
- Flights
- Hotels
- Lyft & Uber
- Books & Reference Materials
- Virtual Assistant
- Logo
- Graphics & Templates
- Website Design

*Your home office space being counted as an expense must be used exclusively for business in order to qualify. If your office is used for any personal reason, it won't be deductible. (So your bedroom where you work, would not count as a home office)

Must be from home use and have a dedicated office space

Repairs and upgrades must relate only to your business

†The portion of your dues that eventually goes to political advocacy and lobbying is not deductible

††Must be related to your profession and not in order to qualify for another profession or trade